VOL. XXXIV

STANFORD, KY., FRIDAY, AUGUST 3, 1906.

NO. 40.

FARMER'S DEPARTMENT.

FOR SALE.—Three good Southdown bucks. W. A. Coffey, McKinney. John Buster bought of Hughes Horn, of Mercer, a five-year-old gelding for $300.

C. Lebus, of Cythiana, refused 61 cents for 225 hogs, weight about 225 lbs. He sold 252 lambs to Carroll & Talbot at seven cents.

T. M. Estes writes from Crab Orchard that he found the huffer he advertised in these columns for. Another proof that it pays to advertise in the I. J.

M. J. Hoffman sold to E. P. Woods 450 hogs, averaging 250 pounds, at 6c. Mr. Hoffman wants to buy 50 or 75 50 to 100 pound shoats. See James C. Reid at St. Asaph Hotel.

FOR SALE.—Three high class Berkshire boars of February farrow. Sire, Columbia Loyal No. 67195; dam, Bourbon Queen No. 88550. E. G. Bickley, Stanford, R. F. D. No. 2.

ESLRY.—A pale red heifer left my place about five weeks ago. Has small crooked horns. Had bell on when she left. Reasonable reward for her recovery. Bud Pennington, Maywood.

"Alaska is a land of adventure and romance," said Raymond Brumbaugh, who recently returned from the North. "Many queer things have happened in Alaska. Many wretched things. Sometimes it has been necessary to break sad news to mothers at home and sometimes this news has been broken with wonderful skill."

"An Alaskan called on a woman in New Hampshire to tell her of her son's death in the Klondike."

"Yes lady," he said to the weeping mother, "I was with him to the end. I seen him die. And I tell ye ma'am, as he wuz dyin' he looked jest like an angel."

"Did he?" the mother sobbed. "He certainly did, ma'am," said the Klondiker, "Swingin' back'ards and for'ards in the air that ye'd a thought he had wings."

DON'T BITE YOUR NAILS.—One of the best known and most successful physicians and surgeons of Philadelphia says that the biting of finger nails is the chief cause of the cases of appendicitis that are operated on daily. Nothing is more likely to cause the appendix to become inflamed and subsequently perforated than the sharp bits of nails bitten off the ends of the fingers and swallowed. In one hospital in Philadelphia last week there were nine persons operated on for appendicitis and seven were caused by biting off the finger nails.

"Make Hay While the Sun Shines."

There is a lesson in the work of the thrifty farmer. He knows that the bright sunshine may last but a day and he prepares for the showers which are so liable to follow. So it should be with every household. Dysentery, diarrhoea and cholera morbus may attack some member of the home without warning. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, which is the best known medicine for these diseases, should always be kept at hand, as immediate treatment is necessary, and delay may prove fatal. For sale by Stanford Drug Co.

Knicker—What is your son doing? Bocker—Rolled up his sleeves and gone to work.

Knicker—And your daughter? Bocker—Rolled up her sleeves and gone to play.—New York Sun.

Some people seem to think that they are greater than their kind; But they are not, for if they were, They'd be of different mind.

HUBBLE.

Eld. George Gowan, pastor of the First Christian church in Nashville, will begin a protracted meeting here Sunday, Aug. 19.

Frank Miller, who is traveling for a large shoe house in Indianapolis, is expected soon to visit his parents. Miss Grace Deering, of Lexington, is the guest of Miss Flonnie Hammond. Miss Winona Norfleet, of Somerset, is visiting her aunt, Mrs. Thos. McBeath.

On account of being in a protracted meeting at Bethel, Elder F. M. Tindler will not fill his appointment at the Christian Sunday afternoon. Rev. Maxwell, of Nelson county, assisted by the pastor, Rev. P. J. Ross, is holding a protracted service at the Methodist church here. Rev. Maxwell is preaching some excellent sermons.

Osa Hickie, of Powder Springs, Tenn., is the guest of his brother, Dr. W. F. Hickie. Mrs. Mary Brinkley, of Somerset, is visiting relatives here. Miss Bettie Roberts has returned to her home in Lexington after a visit to Miss Ethel Carman. Mrs. Adam Kelley's brother from London, visited her last week. Leslie Sloan is visiting in Somerset.

James McKeechie and John Robinson have returned from Wayne county, where they bought a car load of sheep and some other stock. David Rankin is building a new stock barn. Lee Rankin and A. P. Sloan bought some oats from George James at $8 per ton in the field. H. C. Walter, sold some old hay to Danville parties at $12. Matt Engleman bought a combined mare for $175. George Wilder, James Rosa and Van Keeton are shipping their tobacco this week. J. C. Eubanks and Lee Rankin have been on the sick list.

The Congressional Fight.

Hon. Harvey Helm of Lincoln county, was in town yesterday and spoke very encouragingly of his prospects for winning the Congressional nomination in this district. In the first place, he counts on carrying Madison county nearly solidly, and says he will also run as well in Shelby, Spencer and Anderson. With his home county, and his neighbor of Rockcastle supporting him strongly and a strong following in Jessamine, he yields only Mercer and possibly Boyle to the enemy. So it appears from these figures that he will win his race without difficulty.

Mr. Helm relies strongly on three elements that are entirely in his favor, for success in this primary. First, that he is the logical candidate and was entitled to the honor before, but was deprived in a convention of the votes, which would have elected him in a primary; secondly, that his record as a Bryan man and true blue Democrat is such as to commend him to the Democracy of the District; and in the last place, both he and his county are for Senator McCreary and are opposed to machine rule. His eminent personal fitness in addition to the above reasons, is such as to make him a particularly strong candidate. From present indications there seems every chance of his success.—Richmond Register.

Gov. Luke P. Blackburn, whose reputation as a physician and philanthropist is too well known to need further comment, once said "Concentrated Crab Orchard Water is the best aperient known to the medical profession and will cure more diseases than any one remedy I have ever used." Get a bottle of White's Diamond Brand Crab Orchard Water. For sale by all druggists and country stores.

Robert Blankenship, one of the proprietors of a store at Grayson, surprised robbers in the store and in a battle which followed was dangerously wounded by the miscreants, who made their escape.

NEWS NOTES.

The postoffice at Greenfield, O., was burglarized and stamps and cash aggregating $5,000 stolen.

The Indiana State board of health reports that 95 per cent. of the slaughter houses in that State are in bad condition.

The American Federation of Catholic Societies, in convention in Buffalo, decided to meet at Indianapolis next year.

A 24-hour bank has opened for business in Chicago. With the exception of Sundays and holidays, it will be open all the time.

Robert Crabtree, a merchant of Morganfield, while hunting near Chalybeate Springs, accidentally shot and killed Tillman Thompson.

John C. Hatley, receiver for the Zion City industries, issued an appeal to the moneyed followers of the Dowie doctrine to contribute for the relief of the destitute of the community.

James Stuart, a Lexington youth, had blasting powder and matches in one of his trousers' pockets. He also smoked a cigarette. There was an explosion. The boy was seriously hurt.

Floyd Carmichael, a Negro who assaulted a white girl in a suburb of Atlanta, Ga., was shot by a posse which captured him. The corpse would have been burned but for the arrival of policemen.

A fire at Maysville caused a loss of $28,000. John T. Parker's livery stable was destroyed and the furniture and undertaking establishment of Melvain & Humphreys was damaged to the extent of $10,000.

When the steamer Henry M. Stanley was near Gallipoli, O., a Negro entered the cabin of a Cincinnati passenger and attempted to assault her. He was discovered and driven over the side of the boat and drowned by the captain.

Sherman N. Stubb and John Anderson, the detectives who testified in the Hartje case at Pittsburg, to entering Coachman Madine's room and taking letters from his trunk, were arrested, charged with entering a building for felony and larceny.

Bishop Gaines, of Atlanta, in an address before the Negro Young People's Christian and Educational Congress, in session at Washington, said that Senator Tillman, Gov. Vardaman, Gov. Jefferson Davis, Thomas Dixon and John Temple Graves were enemies of the Negro race.

Charles Mades, who used to feed soldiers during the Civil war, was telling of a row he had with a Pennsylvania soldier.

"He came into my place," said Mades, "and he was ugly. I remonstrated with him about some things he said and he picked up a big heavy beer mug and threw it at me. I dodged and picked up another mug and threw at him. It struck him in the face and tore off his nose."

"What became of him?" asked Col. John Corwin.

"Oh," said Mades, "he is around here now. He got a pension for injuries received in the line of duty."

Summer Diarrhoea in Children.

During the hot weather of the summer months the first unnatural looseness of a child's bowels should have immediate attention, so as to check the disease before it becomes serious. All that is necessary is a few doses of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy followed by a dose of castor oil to cleanse the system. Rev. M. O. Stockland, pastor of the First M. E. Church, Little Falls, Minn., writes: "We have used Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy for several years and find it a very valuable remedy, especially for summer disorders in children." Sold by Stanford Drug Co.

Jack—Old Toper's spirits are very low to-night.

Tom—Have you seen him?

Jack—No, but I've seen the jug he keeps them in.

Stomach Troubles and Constipation.

No one can reasonably hope for good digestion when the bowels are constipated. Mr. Chas. Baldwin, of Edwinstown, Ill., says: "I suffered from chronic constipation and stomach troubles for several years, but, thanks to Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets, am almost cured." Why not get a package of these tablets and get well and stay well? Price 25 cents. Samples free. For sale by Stanford Drug Co.

"You say your wife can't throw straight?"

"Yes."

"Then how did she come to hit you?"

"I dodged!"

And now he cuts a switch from it

To lick his youthful heir.

HUSTONVILLE.

Rev. S. B. Lander's subject Sunday morning is: "Secret Faults and Little Foxes." Afternoon: "Bringing in the Sheaves."

The Danville fair was liberally patronized from Hustonville and vicinity, more than doubling the patronage we received from Boyle county.

Workmen are putting the finishing touches on the beautiful home recently purchased in our city by Emmett McCormack, and when the colonial veranda is completed it would ornament any town.

Thomas Peacock bought of the board of education on Tuesday afternoon the old school building and grounds for $531. Mr. Peacock will begin at once the work necessary to make this one of the most attractive homes in our suburbs.

Lutes & Co. shipped two cars of 1,450-pound export cattle to Baltimore for which they paid $4.60. Cowan & McCormack shipped two double deck cars of lambs to Cincinnati this week. D. C. Allen shipped two cars of heavy weight hogs to Cincinnati.

The ruling of the department upon county roads traversed by rural routes to the effect that they must be kept in such condition that they can be traveled comfortably with a vehicle or service on same will be reduced or discontinued, is a good order and should be enforced to the letter. It is incumbent upon parties living on such routes who want the service to see that said roads are put in good condition when notified by their carrier.

The officers of our fair association are to be congratulated upon the grand success of their recent exhibition. From hill and dale a grand chorus shouts aloud their praises for the Hustonville fair. The figures show a balance on the right side of the ledger and the same dates are claimed for next season. The success of any fair depends largely upon the efforts of the secretary and to Mr. Sam M. Owens, the efficient secretary of this association, is due the thanks of the stockholders.

Mrs. Leslie O'Daniel, of Louisville, is visiting Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Williams. Miss Mamie Underwood, of Boyle, is the guest of Miss Ella Barnett. Mrs. Kate Clemens, of Lebanon, is the guest of her aunt, Mrs. Julia Talbot. Miss Alice Lyon is attending the Danville fair and the guest of her sister, Mrs. L. M. Omer. Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Van Arsdall have returned from a visit to Mr. Wiser and wife, Mrs. Van Arsdall's parents, in Louisville. Miss Grace Goode is visiting relatives in Waco, Tex. Miss Sallie Goode, of Louisville, is the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Goode.

Little Louise Oldson gave her many friends a most enjoyable party Tuesday evening from 8 to 10:30. The various plays of the present day amused the gay throng until 10 o'clock, when a delightful lunch was served. Among those present were little Misses Mary Stagg, Ora Williams, Ruth Culbertson, Blanche Barnett, Currie Lewis, Mabel Drye, Nellie Newton and Masters Francis Weatherford, Carlisle Myers, Dodd Skinner, Dunn Sandidge, Sylvester and John Newton, Bowman Myers and others. The cake walk prize was won by Mary Stagg, Ruth Culbertson and Francis Weatherford after which "good nights" closed the happy evening in the memory of the young folks.

Mrs. John McDaniel, of Burnside, is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Thomas Peacock. Quite a crowd of young ladies and gentlemen from here will spend next week at Russell Springs. Mrs. Mary J. Weatherford and Mrs. Sallie Shipman will leave this week for a two weeks' sojourn at Crab Orchard. Mr. and Mrs. Len Shannon and Miss Dixon Wright, of St. Louis, made a special trip here to attend the Hustonville fair, with which they were delighted. Miss Darling Daugherty is visiting Mrs. T. C. Carter in Anderson county. Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Oldson and son, Frank and daughter, Louise, and Miss Dollie Williams left Thursday for Chattanooga and Atlanta, where they will spend a week before going to Roanoke, Ala., the former's home.

THE VEIL

Is not always used to protect the face from the elements and keep the hair in position, but by many, many women and girls to hide the unsightly pimples, blackheads and other eruptions of the skin. There is germ life in the skin and "ZEMO," a nice, clean liquid for external use, soon kills out this germ and leaves the face as smooth and soft as that of a child. "ZEMO" will positively cure all skin and scalp diseases, such as Eczema in its many forms, ringworm, tetter, pimples, dandruff, or any itching skin disease. Get a bottle to-day at your druggist's.

HARVEY HELM

of Lincoln county, is a candidate to represent the Eighth Congressional District of Kentucky in Congress, to succeed Hon. G. G. Gilbert, subject to the action of the Democratic primary, Sept. 1.

JUDGE JOHN W. HUGHES, of Mercer county, is a candidate to represent the Eighth Congressional District of Kentucky in Congress, to succeed Hon. G. G. Gilbert, subject to the action of the Democratic primary.

M. F. NORTH

Is a candidate for Representative of Lincoln county, subject to the action of the Democratic primary.

RUNNING for Congress in the Eighth district seems to be somewhat of a Jonah. Madison's gallant son, R. W. Miller, died a few weeks ago; W. J. Price has withdrawn on account of ill health, and Judge John W. Hughes was reported sick Tuesday from an attack of indigestion. At the time of going to press we had not heard from Lincoln's candidate but would advise him to use salt when eating green apples or water melons.—Jessamine Journal. Hon. Harvey Helm, Lincoln county's candidate for Congress, is in the pink of condition and the best of spirits. In fact conditions are so favorable to him in his race for the nomination that he could not get sick if he should try.

ANOTHER Republican revolt is occurring in New Jersey and Senator Dryden, the president of the Prudential Life Insurance Company, is in danger of defeat. In his evidence before a committee of investigation he admitted giving large sums of money, rightfully belonging to the policy holders and stockholders; to Republican corruption funds, of which $10,000 was to Roosevelt's campaign fund and justified this diverting of trust funds on the ground that the interest of the company would be endangered by Democratic success. As his own success is now endangered, the policyholders may well dread the outcome, for it may require the whole surplus to suppress the revolt.

ALLEN MATHEIS, the Negro assailant of Miss Ethel McLane, was hanged at Mayfield. He was taken from the train from Louisville, where he had been for safe-keeping, to the court house and a trial was held in short order, the execution taking place 50 minutes after the jury had been sworn in to hear the case. This is speedy work but it taints more of mob law than common justice. The fact that the scaffold had been put up before the Negro was tried proves conclusively that he was to have been hung whether the jury said he should be or not.

MRS. LESLIE CARTER is a wonderful woman. She has just married, giving her age at 33. In 1880 she married the first time, so according to her figures she was only seven then, and only ten when her son was born in 1883. Did you ever?

THE INTERIOR JOURNAL would like to have the pleasure of supporting Mr. W. Vernon Richardson, of the Danville News, for Railroad Commissioner. We second his nomination and insist that he make the race.

SOULS are tougher or salvation is freer in some places than others. According to an Atlanta Baptist minister it costs $1 to save a soul in Philadelphia and Chicago, and only 25 cents in Atlanta.

A ST. LOUIS man has figured as co-respondent in six divorce cases. In Kentucky he would doubtless have gone out on the first round.

POLITICAL.

Claude M. Desha, of Cynthia, has announced as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Congress in the Ninth.

Floyd Byrd is the leading candidate for Congress in the 10th district convention at Pikeville. The Hargis faction is fighting him with all the vim it can command.

President Roosevelt has contributed one dollar to the Republican National Congressional Committee's campaign fund. In a letter to the committee he approved the plan of soliciting dollars for the fund.

It is announced in New York that William J. Bryan, in his Madison Square Garden speech on August 30, will outline his conception of the issues on which the next Democratic national campaign should be made.

No plan for selecting a Democratic nominee in the Sixth appellate district was decided upon at a meeting of the committee held in Lexington, it being held that this committee had not been called together legally. Will A. Young, the chairman, held that no election is legal until 1907.

Charles R. McDowell, of Danville, and A. R. Burnam, of Richmond, were commissioned by Gov. Beckham as representatives of the Democratic and Republican parties on the State Election Commission which commission appoints county commissioners in the several counties, who in turn name the precinct officers to hold the election in November.

CHURCH MATTERS.

The union services will be held at the Methodist church Sunday night.

Rev. W. S. Coakley will preach at the Baptist church at Crab Orchard Sunday.

Rev. L. M. Omer will assist Eld. J. G. Livingston in a meeting which will begin at Logan's creek church Sunday night next.

Rev. S. M. Logan left this week for Buckhorn, in Perry county, where he will hold a series of meetings.—Jessamine Journal.

There were about 300 people in attendance at the County Sunday School Convention at Burnside Friday and Saturday. Delegates were present from 25 schools in the county. The program was enacted successfully and the hospitality of Burnside people was exhibited at its best.—Somerset Journal.

TO THOSE INTERESTED.—On account of an unusual amount of sickness in the community and the dangerous condition of Mrs. J. Randolph Harris, the protracted meeting, in which the minister was to have been assisted by the writer, was postponed until a more auspicious season. Very cordially, Joseph W. Hagin, Covington, Ky.

Rev. Gilbert Glass decided to accept the call recently received from the Madison Avenue Presbyterian church in Covington and will take charge Sept. 1. Mr. Glass' leaving Stanford will cause universal regret, for during his pastorate here he has made friends of all with whom he has come in contact. He is an able preacher, a splendid pastor and a polished, elegant gentleman—just such a citizen as Stanford can least afford to give up.

The Post-office Department has issued a fraud order against G. W. Mason, of Latonia, who is charged with operating a gambling scheme.

TRIAL MONDAY. - Jesse Fitzgerald, the Negro murderer of Mrs. Robert Broughton, in Knox county, and Annie Henson, his accomplice, will be tried at Harboursville Monday at a special term of the circuit court. At that time the governor will probably be called upon for additional State troops to assist the local company in preventing a lynching. Indignation is high in the Fighting Creek section of the county, says a dispatch, and only the quick removal of the prisoners last week prevented a double lynching, as the local State guards on duty were regarded as too few for the mobs which had assembled. So quietly was the work of removing the prisoners conducted that the militia on duty did not know of the proceedings for eight hours. Fitzgerald is said to have committed two other murders for the purpose of robbery. He is also said to have been implicated in the gang which last year committed several burglaries in Harboursville. This gang was broken up by the shooting of one member while in the act of breaking into a store, and the capture of two others. Fitzgerald and the woman, who are in jail here for safe-keeping, will likely be taken to Harboursville Sunday.

HAGER OPENS CAMPAIGN

Vigorously Answers Hays at Mt. Sterling.

MONTGOMERY DEMOCRATS GIVE HIM A WARM WELCOME AND TURN OUT IN FORCE TO HEAR HIM, NOTWITHSTANDING INCLEMENT WEATHER—GOOD WORK OF STATE ADMINISTRATION PROVEN TO SATISFACTION OF ALL.

(Special to State Journal.)

Mt. Sterling, Ky., July 16—Judge S. W. Hager opened his campaign for the governorship here this afternoon, speaking before a large assemblage of the representative Democrats of Montgomery and the adjoining counties, who came in to hear him notwithstanding the very inclement weather. Attorney C. D. Grubbs introduced him.

Judge Hager spoke for a little over an hour. He reviewed the good record of the present Democratic administration, and answered to the fullest satisfaction of every Democrat present the distorted and malicious charges made by Attorney General Hays against the conduct of the state government. He took up the attack in detail and decisively and finally proved the vicious and false position taken on each subject by the Attorney General.

Judge Hager aroused much enthusiasm among his hearers, and was also given the heartiest expressions of support when he had finished. The Democratic leaders, as well as the rank and file, gave him the warmest assurances that as far as his race for Governor is concerned no factional differences will be allowed to maintain in Montgomery. He was placed the united support of the Democrats of the county in his race.

After Judge Hager had finished his address, Senator J. W. Newman and R. C. Crenshaw, candidates for Commissioner of Agriculture, and Hubert Vreeland, candidate for Secretary of State, spoke to the crowd.

Judge Hager's speech was in full as follows:

Judge Hager's Address.

"Fellow-Democrats—The time is approaching when the Democracy of Kentucky is to make quadruple choice of its standard bearers for the several state offices for the election of 1905 and for the selection of a United States Senator; and that Democracy which has never faltered in its devotion, can be relied upon at this time, as in former years, to display wisdom in its choice. The events transpiring in recent years, of recent months, and disclosed before an astonished world, reveal the existence of corruption in almost every department of government, as well as in the industrial centers of our country growing out of Republican rule and Republican policies, and give cause for the ardent hope of the democracy of the country for the success of the Democratic party and its principles, not only in the several state elections intervening between this time and the presidential election, but also that there will be elected to the chief magistracy of our nation in November, 1904, that kind of a people, that magnetic and peerless leader, that true citizen, wise statesman and noble patriot, William Jennings Bryan.

Bryan For President in 1908.

"The time is ripe for the Democracy in every sign of the times there is unanimous promise; everywhere and in every state the party is full of enthusiastic hope. We have been living as I were at the outer walls of the city of promise; but unless all signs lead to the election of 1905 will sound the death knell of Republicanism, herald the triumph of Democracy and proclaim to the world the victory of the people over the influence of corporate greed and fostering protection, and in that triumph that David that slay this giant will be, by unanimous choice of the Democratic party, our own beloved Bryan.

"When that shall transpire, and that it will be just as sure as that an awakened people are anathema to their wrongs, we will enter the gates of the city of promise and hope and come into our own. As the Democratic party has always been dignified in defeat, in victory it will be moderate. It is the party of the people; its battles are the people's battles. It has survived the fortunes of princes and of monarchs. It has known its defeats, and has had its triumphs; but in victory or defeat it has always been the same, the enemy of the policies which favor the few in the exclusion of the many. From every defeat, no matter how overwhelming or inglorious, it has arisen fresh and vigorous to offer battle in behalf of the people as against corporate usurpation and has never faltered even at the last ditch. Like all good things, it can not perish. It may for a time be subdued and rent in the shadows, but when the battle cry of the great common people is sounded it rallies in their standard.

"What other political party could have so long survived the long years of successive defeats in our national elections? The Whigs, Know Nothings and all other parties suffering a few defeats, disintegrated, became as a dream and passed into oblivion, leaving only as a reminder of their existence a few traces on the political history of our nation. But the Democratic party as strong in its integrity and as vigorous as in its greatest triumphs, still lives, the pillar of the people's hope and stalwart defender of their rights. It lives and will continue to live so long as justice needs a champion, and so long as equality before the law and in governmental affairs shall be a part of the fabric of our republican form of government.

"And why has this great party survived the disasters of the past? Because it is founded on the broad principles of justice and equal rights to all, because espouses the cause of all the people and not a special few; because it believes in the constitution as almost a divine instrument and favors following it; because it is opposed to the high protective tariff that robs the consumer to enrich the producer; because, in fine, it is founded on those lofty principles, embodied in the first inaugural of Jefferson, the great founder of our party and constituting our party creed from that time to the present.

Platform of Jefferson.

"A better platform has never been devised, the touchstone of which is equal rights of justice to all men and blessings of government secured by restraining men from injuring one another, leaving them otherwise free to regulate their own pursuits and interests from the month of labor the bread it has earned. Such was the party of Jefferson; such the party of Jackson, and such it is in this good year of the 20th century hoary with age, but as vigorous as when the sun rose in old Virginia and shed its splendor upon its infancy.

"This historic party of the people is rich in having as its fearless, faithful and conscientious advocate the peerless William Jennings Bryan, not of Nebraska, but of the United States at large, whom prophecy has named our next President.

Misappropriation of Trust Funds.

"The world stands appalled at the startling disclosures of the corruption exposed by the investigation of insurance companies whose officers, out of the trust funds that had been placed in their hands for the protection of widows and orphans, contributed to the National Republican Committee stupendous sums in return for which they were to receive governmental favor and protection and such legislation as they might require regardless of the rights of the citizens of these United States. When confronted with their turpitude, they not only did not deny it, but brazenly attempted to justify it on the ground of expediency. Our moral senses have been shocked by other similar instances.

Republican Party Compromises With Crime.

"To carry out its purposes the Republican Party has compromised with crime, and, forgetting the sacred trust that was confided to it of a sound and economical government for the benefit of all the people, it has delegated its governmental powers to corporations and entered into a combine with them in consideration of these corrupt contributions made in return for their success. With the Democratic party there is no compromise with crime. Its policies are grounded on higher, loftier and nobler principles. Even the Republican President at Washington has become a disciple of Democratic policies that in 1902 and 1900 were denounced throughout the land as heresies, as the dreams of a visionary, and is found advocating and promoting the things Bryan has stood for these past ten years.

Kentucky's Part in Battles.

"Now, my friends, what part has our beloved Kentucky played in the preservation and perpetuation of Democratic principles and Democratic beliefs and the principles and Democratic success? With the exception of 1865, when the party was liberated and torn asunder by reason of the money question, which was the controlling issue in that campaign, and when the Republican party had exalted from corruption the most stupendous corruption fund known to American politics, Kentucky has always cast her electoral vote for the Democratic candidates. In 1902 when those composing the present state administration were candidates before the people, they were elected by a majority of 27,000, the largest majority that had been given any candidate in Kentucky in almost a quarter of a century. Again in 1904, a presidential year when every state that had ever cast its vote for a Republican candidate, and every state that was considered doubtful cast its electoral vote for Mr. Roosevelt, the Republican candidate for President, did Kentucky standing as the bulwark of Democracy, true to her faith and her traditions, loyal in her devotion to Democracy, unmoved by the siren and deluding voice of the corruptionist, cast her untrammelled and loyal vote for the Democratic candidate for President by a majority of 27,000. Why when all the doubtful states turned the other way, did she remain steadfast and unmoved? Because of her loyalty to Democracy, her faith in her faith in the present state administration. This administration elected by such a handsome majority and entrusted by the people with the affairs of the state, has given in Kentucky an honest, faithful and capable management of public affairs, and has in all things done the right as has been given them to see the right.

Kentucky Out of Debt.

"When it was my honor to assume the responsibility of a member of the state administration, Kentucky had a bonded debt of one million dollars hanging over her and a tax rate of 25¢ cents on the one hundred dollars. Since then the bonded debt has been wiped out; the school term has been increased to six months; an annual appropriation of $15,000 has been paid to the State College; $15,000 a year is being paid to the 'Children's Home Society,' whose beneficent work is applauded in every county in this commonwealth; $75,000 has been appropriated and paid for maintaining Kentucky's exhibits at the St. Louis Exposition; $22,289 in appropriations for the enlargement and improvement of the asylums and penitentiaries; a home, at the cost of $57,000, has been established for the maintenance and support of the poor and unfortunate veteran of the 'last cause' who had the manhood and the courage to face even death in defense of what he thought was right. All this has been done with the tax rate reduced to 50 cents, and to-day your state occupies, before the world, that most enviable position of a state absolutely free from debt or obligation. Few, if any, in all the sisterhood of states, can boast of such a splendid financial condition.

New Capitol.

"A capitol that will cost $1,500,000 is now under construction, and will be completed before the expiration of the term of the present state administration. In architectural splendor and mechanical design it will be in keeping with the growth and glory of our proud commonwealth. Wave after wave may roll by sweeping in its restless course generations from the face of the earth, yet will this magnificent building stand as a monument to the fidelity with which the Commissioners have discharged the trust committed to them.

No Increase in Tax Rate.

"This will be done without increase of the present rate of taxation, and when the capitol is completed the tax rate may be reduced. As a member of that administration, I am proud of its record. I am proud of the material development. I am proud of the confidence that has been reposed in it, and that the unbounded resources of our mountains and hills have become a fruitful field for the investment of capital, and proud that business, commerce and manufacture have laid aside their timidity, shown their confidence in the party in power, and that under the wise and conservative policies of that party the busy hum of industry lends its music to the ear.

School Per Capita.

"I am proud also that the present administration is to pay, this year, the largest sum in amount and per capita ever paid in support of the common schools of the state, and that while great honor is arrogated and claimed by President Roosevelt for regulation of interstate railroad rates, equal or greater honor may be claimed for our state executive and officials for exerting the full power of the law of the state to secure to the people of Kentucky just and reasonable rates and impartial service from the railroads within principles fair alike to the railroads and the people.

Account of Stewardship.

"Now, my fellow-citizens, for six and one-half years I have occupied the position of a public servant, four years as Treasurer and two and one-half years as Auditor. By virtue of these offices I have been a member of the Board of Valuation and Assessment. As Auditor I am chairman of the board. The duty of this board is to assess all corporate interests. I have always sought, without fear or favor, to require all such interests to bear their just and due proportion of the burden of taxation, and have put forth an earnest effort to compel the corporations to come up to the full requirements of the revenue laws, and to place all interests on an equal footing in the matter of taxation. The values of corporate franchises have been materially increased during my tenure in office, and this has been accomplished without undue oppression of any interest, in strict compliance with the law, against which no protest can be registered. While accomplishing these results, it has always been my endeavor to so administer the responsibilities of this office as to encourage and invite capital to invest in this state, and I am pleased to note a most gratifying increase in foreign capital which is seeking and finding investment here. Should I receive the nomination and be elected to the office to which I aspire, my attitude will continue the same, and as far as lies in my power, I will see that the laws of the commonwealth are impartially enforced without fear or favor so that the prime objects of government are attained in securing to all the people of the state the rights of life, liberty, property and the pursuit of happiness.

Manner of Campaign.

"It is my purpose to conduct this campaign upon a high plane, and with a dignity commensurate with the honorable and exalted position to which my ambition leads me to aspire. No word of invective or abuse shall characterize any utterances of mine; for when this contest is ended I want the victor, whether it be myself or my opponent, to have the support of a united Democracy, thereby securing ultimate triumph over the common enemy.

"This is a contest for supremacy within the Democratic household, and I would not blot the character of campaign that would likely result in the accumulation of campaign material to be utilized by the Republicans in 1907.

Gen. Hays' Complaint.

"My opponent, Mr. Hays, in his opening speech at New Castle, drew a general indictment against the Democratic administration, which in excess of irony he terms a machine. There are only two charges in his indictment that the statute of limitation has not run against. Every charge except the one termed 'Architects' fees' and the one termed 'Salary' has been made against the administration whose term closed on the first Monday in January, 1904, when the present administration, of which Mr. Hays is a member, assumed control of the affairs of the state. In 1903 the nominations for state officers were made in a primary election, no principles or policies being enunciated in a platform. The manner in which the affairs of the state were being conducted by the Democratic administration was promulgated as the platform upon which the campaign of 1903 was based, and every speaker from every platform exalted in language of burning eloquence the wisdom, conservatism and economy that marked the leading characteristics of that administration. Upon that plea and upon that platform Mr. Hays and the rest of us were elected by the largest majority received by a state ticket for nearly a quarter of a century.

"Gen. Hays, equally with other officials constituting the present state administration, was elected to administer the affairs of the state with a double responsibility, not only to the Democrats of Kentucky, whose representatives they became, but to all the people of the state. For myself I have interpreted that commission from party and people, to do rather than shun or not doing, and standing by for the purpose of criticism. It is a trite saying that it is much easier to be critical than to be correct. While not claiming for myself or associates infallibility in acts, I do claim for them and myself that in all administrative duties we have brought to their discharge the very best judgment of which we were capable, and have discharged these duties with an eye single to the best interests of the tax-paying public, and to the glory and renown of the state whose agents we are. It is a fair comment on his speech to say that in accusing others who have with as single minded purpose as he can claim endeavor to serve the state he lamely attempted to excuse himself.

"These criticisms are mainly directed to the several heads of 'public printing,' 'architects' fees,' 'increase of tax and expenditures.'

"With your indulgence, I will briefly note the criticisms, in the order in which he has seen proper to speak of them.

Public Printing.

"Under the law of the state, public printing is let to the lowest bidder in four separate and distinct classes. Bids are received upon different classes, and the question to be first determined by the Printing Commission as determining the compensation to be paid is as to the class to which the particular printing belongs. In the Teachers' Registers and Trustee Record books a question arose as to which class that character of work belonged. It was fully discussed before the board and afterwards referred to the Hon. Clifton J. Pratt, then Attorney General of Kentucky, the then Attorney General of Kentucky, and then always regarded as a conscientious and able lawyer, and it was determined by him as a matter of legal construction, as well as by the board, that said class of work belonged to the second class and the work so classified was paid for under the contract at the contract price, no more and no less.

"This whole question was considered by an investigating committee, appointed by the Senate of Kentucky, which after hearing all the evidence, made a report completely exonerating members of the board of any unlawful or improper act, fixing the blame upon the terms of the law and not in its administration by members of the board. Senate Journal, 1904, p. 1215, etc.

"And again, whether the work was first or second class was the question presented in suit filed by Gen. Hays in the Fiscal Court of the state. That court decided as Attorney General Pratt and the members of the board had previously decided, that the work in question belonged to the second class.

"If Gen. Hays is sincere in his criticism, that the tax-paying public has been outraged in the particulars stated by him, it is open to him to carry this whole question to the Court of Appeals, which, as I am advised, he has not done. May I venture a layman's opinion that the people have constituted the courts as final arbiters in matters of legal controversies, and that he would better try his case before that high tribunal before venturing criticism of the acts and motives of its fellow-men.

State Capitol and Architect's Fees.

"I have already referred to the work of the commission in providing a plan and material that will result in Kentucky having a capitol building worthy of the best aspirations of her people. At least Gen. Hays' criticism, it is that the Capitol Commission is to be censured because it did not accept the plans of E. E. Myers, of Detroit, Mich., at cost of $1,000,000, promising a completion of a capitol at $250,000. Forty or more architects were in competition. Mr. Myers was never before the board. Gen. Hays did not vote for his plans, and what a capitol built upon the plans of Mr. Myers would have proved to be, of course, is a matter of mere conjecture. The commissioners were pleased to regard Kentucky as equal in character and dignity to any gentleman of the state or country, and entitled to the very best result in the matter of constructing its capitol. It did not interpret its duties to mean that it was going about in obtaining a 'hand-me-down' suit, but to get the best material and finish a 'great fit,' meaning a result that would be fitting. In fair, open competition Mr. Andrews, whose work is attested as excellently in the magnificent new hotel lately constructed at Louisville and one in process of construction at Cincinnati, and whose reputation is of the very best, was selected. The fee to be paid for supervision are less than those prescribed by the American Association of Architects, and whatever the cost of the building, and the payment of this sum is safeguarded by provision of the contract, that it is payable only upon completion of the building.

"I admit it to be possible that the board could have hired a cheap architect and that a capitol building could have been erected out of material and constructed in a manner that would have materially reduced its cost.

"In this act, and in all past acts, I have had steadily in view the cardinal doctrine of Democracy of economy in public expenditures, but I do not believe true economy to be synonymous with either sluttishness or meanness, and that the economy was achieved in getting the best construction under the best available superintendence.

Increase of Taxation.

"The statement that there has been increase in the amount of revenue collected is, of course, true. Gen. Hays is privileged to use his discretion in going back to the year 1896 to get the figures of income and expenditure to serve as a contrast for like expenditures in 1903. The state, as individual citizen of the state, has from natural causes experienced increase of expenditures. It would be a new doctrine for a parent to deny increase of obligation to provide expense for a family of increasing size. It is not out of the way to say that the population of the state has increased more than 10 per cent. In the time mentioned, and that the cost of everything the state as a consumer must buy has greatly increased.

"As Auditor, I recognize the obligations and duties incumbent upon the office in auditing claims and making correct account of income and expenditure.

"The legislative department, immediately representing the people, fixes both the amount and sources of tax income, and how it shall be expended. Expenditures are made by the legislative department, by special appropriation of the Legislature, have been $75,000 to the World's Fair at St. Louis; $15,000 annually to the State College at Lexington; $15,000 to the Children's Home Society; $15,000 to the State Fair; $75,000 to the Governor's business interest of the state; the school term from five to six months, as well as many other smaller appropriations not here necessary to mention.

"While not called upon to justify the expenditures made, further than showing they were made in obedience to law, I have endeavored to show the wisdom, discretion of each and every one of these special appropriations and additional expense.

Interpretations to Gen. Hays.

"Is Gen. Hays willing to affirm a just cause of complaint that as Auditor, in the Democratic State Administration, of which he is a member, is censurable for expending $75,000 for the purpose of providing a representation of Kentucky's resources at the Great World's Fair in obedience to the almost unanimous demand of the business interests of the state?

"Will he say that the money of the people has been unjustifiably wasted in the appropriation of the sum of $15,000 to the Children's Home, a home and refuge for the orphan poor of the state?

"Will he make false complaint of the appropriation of $15,000 annually in support of the State College?

"Does he complain that the added cost of increasing the school term from five to six months is a profligate waste of the money of the people?

"Will he affirm that valid objection existed against the appropriation made for the Children's Home, a home and refuge for the orphan poor of the state? Will he make false complaint of the appropriation of $15,000 annually in support of the State College?

"Does he complain that the added cost of increasing the school term from five to six months is a profligate waste of the money of the people?

"I am persuaded that generous Kentuckians will not listen with patience to a voice that is directed against the honor to the old soldier or enlarged contributions to further the education of the young people of the state.

"Other appropriations made have been to the
